Whether you're planning to snorkel, swim, or sun once you hit port, make a splash in a sexy suit designed to show off your curves.

Two-piece swimsuit by Moschino, $110, at Saks Fifth Avenue; BCBG tank top, $38, from Dillard's.

Cool and comfortable is key when you're cruising to tropical climes. A good pair of khakis never hurts, either.

Short-sleeve V-neck by D&G, $125, at Macy's; white cotton shirt by Elements, $125, at Saks Fifth Avenue; Metropolitan jean by Kenneth Cole, $69, at Macy's.

A man is captured in a dynamic, mid-action pose, splashing in water. He is wearing a black long-sleeved shirt with teal accents on the sleeves and white trousers. The background is a deep, solid blue, and a vertical splash of water is visible on the right side of the frame. The overall mood is energetic and active.

Attacking the climbing wall or just playing a little shuffleboard? Whatever level of adventure you choose, pick casual, cotton coordinates that move when you do.

Theory gym top, $145; Theory track pant, $225; both from Saks Fifth Avenue.

This refined yet relaxed ensemble is so versatile it can take you from sunrise to sunset.

BCBG jacket, $186; BCBG top, $82; indigo jean by Ralph Lauren, $69; all from Macy's.

A little black dress spiced up with a dash — or, in this case, dots — of color is guaranteed to make waves wherever you go.

Moschino Cheap and Chic dress, $455, at Tootsies.
